

Our Proud Royal Family Tradition

“Oh of course he has a knife! We all have knives!

It’s 1183- we are barbarians.

To hold power we are the killers.

We breed war- carry it like syphilis inside.

Dead bodies rot in field and stream because we the living are rotten deep inside.”

Eleanor of Aquitaine to her feuding sons –
The Lion in Winter.

Why is our history of Britain of any importance to us today? Once we truly understand how misguided and stupid the illusion has all been, we’ll stop tradition in its tracks – from Royalty to its wicked step child, the Parliament. We’ll stop using excuses to bomb other countries really done for the oil needed to perpetuate our way of life. It’s all rubbish to use a favourite expression from the Tring Reads.

I’m Not British

Grumpa Bill always claims he is Canadian, not Scottish or English or any of it – it’s not too late for us all to follow. The Read, Hall, Doré, Grant, Dutch Amy history starts now, with our own families. It including shreds we have left from our recent ancestors – from Halloween hotdog, chicken soup dinner, to Thanksgiving haggis and now St. Paddy’s day.

We in our spectacular comfort, holding on to power in the modern world, living off the economic slave labours of those who are beneath us because “that’s just the way it is” is in every way wrong - morally, ethically, economically, socially and politically. We repeat history ad nauseum. We in our own way are the Henry I and Eleanor of our day. Yes you too!

We ponder the situation in Afghanistan where thugs rule and condemn their brutality. The history of social domination by megalomaniacal warlords worldwide, is perhaps most easily understood by skimming through the localized history of Anglo Saxon/Dane, Norman French, Plantagenet French, Tudor Welsh, Stuart Scottish, Orange Dutch, Hanover German, Saxe-Coburg, Gotha, Windsor German – “British” Royalty in all its sodomizing, ‘incestual’ inbred, gory glory.

History, centuries from now, if there be any, will roundly and soundly condemn our way of life as much as we must that of our perversely privileged ancestors. Our great and glorious British Canadian history is reflected typically, following that of “British royalty”: Henry II, b.1133, raised in the French province of Anjou; first visited England in 1142 to defend his mother's claim to the disputed throne of Stephen OR Richard

II, the glorious crusader idolized by every youth of the Commonwealth. A more vile, brutal, hate filled murderous man never walked the earth- burning, boiling citizen Jews by the thousands, hacking mothers and babies to death in a Christly Crusade like vicious Vikings of yore whose blood today flows even within us all in the Commonwealth. Why did we in our regal position never try to break the cruel cycle of global village citizen abuse? If I am to take power in this family all I need do is mimic Elizabeth The-Golden-Age Queen and be off with all of your heads and more lest you plot to kill me first. We need not all begin living monkish life styles – but we can reduce the level of consumptive living drastically.

In our own recent history the British Royal family has been less brutal but equally silly. George V was all for WW I and our history records- “on a visit to the front his horse rolled on top of him, breaking his pelvis - George remained in pain for the rest of his life from the injury”. So sad considering there were – 37 million casualties. The one admirable thing he managed to do that we didn’t learn from? During the Depression he managed to convince all three political parties to form a coalition government. Where is that sensibility today. As early as 1941, George VI predicted the hardships following the end of WW II – for commoners that is. The character of Elizabeth II and her family’s silly antics is perhaps best summed up in images of her leaning over to shake hands with her own 5 year old son, Prince of Wales Charles on London dock side after being separated from each other for six months. You can see his arms aching to be picked up and hugged. Did he ever really hug your Diana? All very posh, prim and proper you know!

Go ahead! Read a few summaries of your fracked up British Canadian regicidal tradition from the Encyclopedia Britannica - <http://www.britannia.com/history/h6f.html>

House of Wessex

Egbert \(802-29 AD\)

Æthelwulf \(839-58 AD\)

Æthelbald \(858-60\)

Æthelbert \(860-66\)

Æthelred \(866-71\)

Alfred, the Great \(871-900\)

Edward the Elder \(900-24\)

Æthelstan \(924-40\)

Edmund, Magnificent \(940-60\)

Eadred \(946-55\)

Eadwig \(Edwy\), All-Fair \(955-59\)

Edgar, the Peaceable \(959-75\)

Edward, the Martyr \(975-78\)

Æthelred, the Unready \(978-1016\)

Edmund, Ironside \(1016\)

Danish Line

Svein, Forkbeard \(1014\)

Canute, the Great \(1016-35\)

Harald, Harefoot \(1035-40\)

Hardicanute \(1040-42\)

House of Wessex, Restored

Edward, the Confessor \(1042-66\)

Harold II \(1066\)

Norman Line

William I, the Conqueror \(1066-87\)
William II, Rufus \(1087-1100\)
Henry I, Beauclerc \(1100-1135\)
Stephen \(1135-54\)
Empress Matilda \(1141\)

Plantagenet, Angevin Line

Henry II, Curtmantle \(1154-89\)
Richard I, the Lionheart
John, Lackland
Henry III
Edward I, Longshanks
Edward II
Edward III
Richard II

Plantagenet, Lancastrian Line

Henry IV, Bolingbroke
Henry V
Henry VI

Plantagenet, Yorkist Line

Edward IV
Edward V
Richard III, Crookback

House of Tudor

Henry VII, Tudor
Henry VIII
Edward VI
Lady Jane Grey
Mary I, Tudor
Elizabeth I

House of Stuart

James I
Charles I

The Commonwealth

Oliver Cromwell
Richard Cromwell

House of Stuart, Restored

Charles II
James II

House of Orange and Stuart

William III & Mary II

House of Stuart

Anne

House of Brunswick, Hanover Line

George I
George II
George III
George IV
William IV
Victoria

House of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha

Edward VII

House of Windsor

George V
Edward VIII
George VI
Elizabeth II

One need not delve into these volumes of print to catch the spirit of the foundations of our misguided, modern class based, parliamentary society – simple watch Glen Close and Patrick Stuart in The Lion in Winter (2003). We the Royal assholes of today live on in more luxury than they could ever imagine.

We read the following about slavery and severely condemn it: They entered the world in a one room dirt floored shack, drafty in winter, reeking in summer. Cabins bred pneumonia, typhus, cholera, lock-jaw, and tuberculosis. The child who survived doing light domestic chores and sent to the fields at age 12 was likely to have rotten teeth, worms, malaria and dysentery. Fewer than 4 out of 100 lived to be 60, the average age in that day. Work began at sunrise and continued as long as there was light – usually 14 hours and longer than a full moon when it went on still longer.
Ken Burn's The Civil War

Our “slaves” today are free yet they live in more horrific conditions with an infant mortality rate of 160/1000. American slave infant mortality was 73/1000. Infant mortality in Canada is 5/1000 and Britain 4.85. We accept it because we are addicted to our cushy way of life and because that’s just the way it is. Our way of life is a truly monstrous one. Twin totalitarianisms plague our world: the dictatorship of consumer society and obligatory injustice to maintain it. What are you going to do about it?

p.s. Don’t even get me started on society’s addiction to Michael Jackson, Paris Hilton, sports stars, and Sir Richard Virgin Branson pop idolatry. Put a smile on your face and a glow in your heart today. Break free from The Matrix - drastically simplify your life.

LR2009, July, 10